Measure & Improve Employee Engagement in 5 minutes per Month

Real-Time Employee Engagement

Problem #1: Employees Aren't Engaged

According to research from Gallup, 75% of employees aren't engaged at work. This is costing companies like yours a lot of money in lost productivity, absenteeism and turnover.

Problem #2: Surveying Isn't Enough

Companies spend way too much time and money on surveys that are only done once or twice per year, often too late.

Is Officevibe difficult to roll-out?

It's dead easy. Simply invite your employees, and everything else is taken care of. We automatically send emails to employees at the perfect frequency to maximize engagement. It shouldn't take employees more than 5 minutes per month. Reporting is always in real-time.

Solution: Measure & Improve Engagement

Officevibe boosts employee engagement with one question a week, and managers get real-time data and concrete tips to improve the culture and keep your best employees.

Why is Officevibe different?

Continuous: Unlike consultants and other survey platforms, we offer real-time data.

Quick: Less than 5 minutes per month.

Actionable: We make the data easy to understand and we offer science-based recommendations for improvement.

How It Works

Quick & Easy

We use short pulse surveys to maximize employee participation. You should expect a very high response rate.

Get Feedback From Employees

In addition to surveys, you'll receive qualitative feedback from your employees with specific ideas for improving the culture.

Real-Time Engagement Reporting

Results from everyone in your company are aggregated anonymously in realtime and provide valuable insights to help you improve.

Create Your Own Poll

You can create your own questions to follow up on any of the information in your report. Questions can be open-ended, multiple choice, or opinion scales.
